Machell to the Cumberland & Westmorland Territorial Forces' Association: "... Thanks to the Executive Committee and other patriotic gentlemen at Kendal, Carlisle & Workington we have been able to start long before our central camp could be ready. One thing we will not do & that is ask a man to come to us before we are ready to make him comfortable.

When a man joins the Lonsdale Battalion he is taking a wise step. Lord Lonsdale, whose name we are proud to bear, has lent us marquees, stoves, cookers, & is helping us in every way. We are a battalion of "Pals", men from different localities in the two Counties soldiering together in sections, platoons and companies. – Officers, Non-Commissioned officers & men, we are all soldiers; badges and stripes do not imply social superiority, but merely indicate our jobs. We are all rungs upon the same ladder. Officers are no good without the rank and file, and the rank and file are no good without the officers.

If I am the Commanding Officer, it is not because I am a better man than anyone else, but because I have been a soldier, & know what I have got to do. True discipline is based on the genuine cooperation of all ranks, and we have all of us joined with the one idea. We are out for King & Country and each has got to do his best.

There will have to be a lot of drill at first, because drill means system, & we cannot do without it, but drill is not the end, it is only the beginning. On top of drill will come the big thing, the development of the soldier's sense of duty, the soldier spirit. Once we have got this, everything comes easy, hardship & danger, it is all Duty, and we will do our duty for all we are worth.

As we have written on our posters, the men of Westmorland & Cumberland will enlist together & fight together, & I look with confidence to the Lonsdale Battalion becoming one of the finest fighting regiments in the British Army." [42]

Machell to Lord Lonsdale: "Lonsdales beat the great "Bighill United F.C." Whitehaven by 5 goals to 1 yesterday, in the new shirts. 41 recruits, grand fellows, came in last night ... 1109 all ranks – I have also probably up to 70 ... and weed out undesirables as much as possible. ... I am assured by the men that we could raise another Battalion if we wanted to, but the men won't hear of anything but the Lonsdales. After ... Parade today I told them that we had raised the Battalion with their cooperation and it was their cooperation we relied upon to enable us to run it. It occurs to me that you might like to let the W.O. [War Office] know that obviously the way to get recruits is to send the men home on weekend pass and tell their friends the facts. ... The 4 London sergeants are grand they teach their men as much and more in an hour as others do in a week. Heavy snow today...." [279]

Pencil sketch of 2 soldiers in a trench. "You have to have 2 "headers" sandbags thick now, or 3'6" to 5' (wet) earth to stop Mauser bullets. Screen your loopholes when not in use – otherwise they make an excellent bulls eye at short range. (The Germans are in some places only 20 yds off or so.) I hope this infernal trench warfare is not going on to the end of the war – it gives one no scope. We sometimes have steel loophole plates which are useful against single bullets (but not when 20 or 30 come in exactly the same place.) Our trenches are all falling in, as they were not revetted in the first instance. Awful grind putting them up again." [81]

Letter from Constance Davidson, Home Food Culture of Cumberland and Westmorland: need tins in which to store the jam and make arrangements for delivery. [126]

Lonsdale Battalion part of the 124th Infantry Brigade [278]

Notes on using a rifle, and discipline. [81]

11 Dec 1914

Battalion Orders: “Authority having been received for the Lonsdale Battalion to recruit a 5th and later on a 6th (Depot) Company ... and arrangements having been made for the provision of the necessary number of billets in the vicinity of the Camp, recruiting is re-opened from this date. Mr. Plender has kindly consented to resume charge of the Recruiting Office at 7 Devonshire Street, Carlisle ... A notification is being sent to the principal recruiting officers in the two counties, and it is hoped that the N.C. Officers and men will themselves bring in recruits for our depot, as they did for the Battalion. ... the function of the depot Companies will be to provide successive drafts of Lonsdale men for the Lonsdale Battalion at the Front.” [136]

Press release: “The War Office having authorised the formation of a 5th (Depot) Company, with a strength of 250 men and an establishment of Officers ..., and a 6th Depot Company later, arrangements have been pushed forward for the accommodation of men in billets in the immediate vicinity of Blackhall Camp, where the new Companies will be trained.

On Saturday the Lonsdale Recruiting Office will reopen ...and the Recruiting Officers at the principal Centres have been requested to give notice that it is once more possible for men of good physique and high character to offer themselves for enlistment in the Lonsdales.

The ranks were so rapidly filled at the time of the Hirings that bitter disappointment was caused to hundreds of splendid fellows who came forward to do their duty and soldier with their Pals in the local Battalion. Now they have their chance. They cannot join the Service Battalion at once because it is still over establishment, but the function of the Depot Companies, ... will be to provide a steady supply of Lonsdale men for the Lonsdale Battalion at the Front.

Short as has been the history of the Battalion up to date, a good tradition has already been established and its feet stand firm upon a solid foundation of right feeling and goodwill.

The Lonsdale Battalion is young, and has much to learn in a short space of time, but all are keen, and if only the weather will continue favourable, they will soon be fit for service.

C Company is coming from Kendal immediately after Christmas and they will receive a rousing reception from their comrades. ... All classes of men are soldiering side by side in the Lonsdales, ... and the clannish spirit which has been so noticeable already will become intensified when the Battalion goes abroad.

A month ago when Recruiting was stopped, and so much disappointment was caused, a number of men said "Lonsdales or nowt" and went home. Now is their chance! There is room for 250 today, and then for 250 more. The Officer Commanding does not believe in more meetings. He believes in the men. He has told the Battalion there are vacancies for 250 recruits, and he says the men will simply tell their friends.

He says "Look at the Football!" our fellows have never been beaten. They have successively defeated The Carlisle Police, the Border Depot, Bigrigg, Carlisle United, and finally our Rugby Union Team has beaten Silloth. ..." [8]

Letter from Miss Edith Annie Smith of Whitehaven: "I not having received any money from Pvt. Patrick Cannon of Lonsdale Battalion for the maintenance of my child. ..." [28]

Letter from Machell to Rivington: "We have got to raise a 5th Company (Depot) & later a 6th. I have arranged to re-open a recruiting office in Carlisle ... The Depot Companies will be 'composite' but the men from various 'localities' placed in sections together – their function will be to feed the service Battalion, & men will be posted to A B C & D according to where they come from. I am telling the men to get to work, & am putting a thing in the various newspapers – I don't believe in more meetings but let the men get to work. Only let them bring real stout fellows, we only want really good ones. If you collect any before you come here on 29th better take them on as a separate squad to C Coy & turn them over to the 5th (Depot) Coy as soon as you arrive. The Depot men will all be in lodgings 2/- a day, like at Kendal, and have got over 300 places ready for immediate occupation. ... Will you before coming here to a certain amount every day of Company Drill, taking every para in turn, so that the Section Commander may get used to handling their sections. It is excellent practice for the young N.C.O.'s, who may know the drill, but get petrified when a long word of command is shot out - ... you will soon be as good as anyone else. I want soon to get on to Company Training." [40]

Joseph Graham 5' 8".

Letter from the City Water Engineer "... a complaint which I am bound to make with respect to the men in your Battalion who are using the Public Baths under the present arrangement. On some occasions the men do not seem to be under proper control and evidently use a large number of towels and drawers [swimming trunks] for the cleaning of their boots. This is a most improper thing to do..."

Letter from Major Harrison Officer Commanding D. Company: "I have to report that the following men are absent without leave ... S. Lowe of Whitehaven, W. Mumford of Workington, J.W. Oglethorpe of Workington, J. Donaughee of Workington, E.F. Hall of Whitehaven and J. McGee. Some of these men applied ... for leave and I refused. The absence of these men together points somewhat to a conspiracy and a defiance of the regulations. Do you think it is worthwhile to notify the Police ...?"

Letter from Recruiting Officer in Appleby to local farmers: "... at this particular moment when your Country is in the gravest danger it may appeal to your patriotism as a father, and also to the patriotism of the male members of your family between the ages of 19 and 38 years. The opportunity for the young men of Westmorland to join this splendid Regiment has occurred again and the Battalion is now open to receive 500 more Recruits. We want these men to join immediately after Christmas." [7]

Letter from Chief Constable of Carlisle: "I have to inform you that Private John Bell ... was arrested ... last night for being drunk and disorderly and creating a disturbance in the Palace Theatre [in Botchergate, Carlisle]. ... I understand that his conduct in the gallery at the Palace was disgraceful and the Artiste who was performing had to leave the stage before finishing his turn in consequence of Bell's behaviour. He would not have been locked up but for the fact that he refused to leave the building and declined to give his name." [23]

Route march from Alston to Haltwhistle then to Gilsland and train back to Carlisle. "It is hoped that a number of fine recruits will be forthcoming in various villages through which the Lonsdales will march, and a number of or private soldiers, many of whom occupy important positions in private life, intend to avail themselves of the opportunity to explain first hand what soldiering in the Lonsdales means." Machell to Lord Lonsdale: "Your magnificent present of cigars has arrived and they have been distributed. Being in boxes of 25 this was easy, and there is great excitement about it. Thank you once more for all the kind things you have done. Our Xmas card has turned out rather a poor affair. The wretch said he could not use the good photo you sent because it was not toned & substituted this bad one! ... Grand weather for work now. I hope by next Xmas the Battalion will have made a good name, & that you will never regret all that you have done for us – we will do our best.” [279]

Christmas telegram from Lord Lonsdale “Christmas greeting to you and yours and all the best of wishes. It is Regiments such as yours that are going to establish the supremacy of England for-ever and sincerely trust that this will be done as speedily as possible and that next Xmas I can congratulate you upon all success and the safety of the Empire but troops are still needed so use your collective and individual help in recruiting in the interest of the King and your country.” [112]

Letter from Machell to Rivington: “... I think it would be a very good thing indeed if you were to bring your small car here – I will try & see about a place for it before you come. I was sorry to have to postpone your move, but I am glad I did, because I see the contractor will probably not get the last hut finished in time for 29th – There will be delay about the ablution rooms in any case, but I know your fellows will realise that it is desirable that the Battalion should get together as soon as possible, and a shift & a shake-up is all on the way to making them helpful. I am forming up the Battalion now in Mass, instead of cols. of Platoons. Just practice putting out the left Guide of No. 1 Platoon some 50 yards away, at odd angles, & then move your Company on to him, so that No. 1 Platoon may come exactly on him, & the left guides of the others at 7 paces in the rear – When a Battalion forms up in mass, the normal assembly formation, the Battn. S.M. is responsible for the front of the line, & each Company S.M. for dressing his guides. The Battn. S.M. dresses the left guide of each of the 4 leading platoons on the alignment required, & the Compy S.M. from the front sees his guides are covered & at right angles to the alignment. I mention it because they found it difficult at first to get square. I am sorry to say W.H. Smith has let us in over the Xmas cards, only just a few have arrived, & these are being sent to ‘benefactors’ – they are pretty bad too.” []

Battalion Orders

“The following Christmas presents have been received from the Earl of Lonsdale 1,600 pounds Plum Pudding and 1,300 cigars. Also: 1,000 cigarettes, 40 tins of sweetmeats, 8 geese, 100 Body Belts.”

Letter from the Local Government Board: "The accommodation provided for the military at Blackhall Farm is not ...of a satisfactory nature... The men at the farm sleep in a number of loose-boxes which differ somewhat in size & construction. None of them are efficiently ventilated, some have very imperfect means of ventilation and others no means of ventilation with the exception of the door which is probably closed in the night-time. Some 6 or 7 men generally occupy each loose-box. I roughly measured two of them and found that the entire space available for each man in one loose-box was about 200 cub ft, while in the other it only amounted to about 160 cub ft. I think that the conditions at Blackhall Farm are such as to be prejudicial to the health of the men and that no time should be lost in providing more suitable accommodation either by the erection of huts or otherwise." [89]

Progress report on huts: "C Company arrived from Kendal 5th instant and is accommodated in four huts 90' x 20' just completed. New Latrines will be ready this week. “Cases have been brought to notice where Officers & Soldiers on certain duties at night have been ordered to carry lights on the vehicles or bicycles by which they are travelling. While recognising the necessity of such orders in connection with the performance of certain duties, instructions should be issued to all concerned that such orders shall be confined to cases where justification for the order is afforded by military necessity and should only be given by an officer. In order to avoid difficulties with the police, the orders should if possible be in writing. Officers & Soldiers in such cases should take every precaution to avoid accidents that is consistent with the proper performance of the duty on which they are engaged.” [135]

18 Feb 1915

Machell's draft letter to the local press: "By the courtesy of the Cummersdale Miniature Rifle Club, the Battalion under my command has already been able to obtain a good grounding in elementary musketry on the Miniature ranges situated within twenty minutes' march of our Camp, with the result that the Musketry Staff Officer of the Western Command, after his recent inspection of the Lonsdales, reported that he was well satisfied with the progress we had made. Having passed through the 'grouping' practice stage, we now feel the urgent need of field glasses for the use of our Non Commissioned Officers; if good results are to be obtained, it is necessary for these N.C.O.'s to be able to observe the effect of each shot fired in the 'Application' and 'Disappearing Target' practices. Further, as we now proceed with training in Outpost work, and other Minor Tactical Exercises, we feel more keenly than ever the necessity of providing our Section Commanders with reliable field glasses, in the efficient use of which they need careful practice before going to the front. There are many keenly patriotic people in these counties who, while not able to enter upon active service themselves, are anxious to help on the training of the New Army in every way they can. They have done much for us already, and it has been suggested that, in this matter of providing field glasses for our non Commissioned Officers, they will be generous enough to give us further assistance, by lending or giving a sufficient number of glasses, either for the period of our training or

(and this would be far better for the Battalion, of course) for the duration of the War. The Lonsdale Battalion is now over 1300 strong. We are all Westmorland and Cumberland men, bent upon doing credit to the Border Counties, if we can, during the present national crisis. It is this that emboldens us to ask the patriotic men and women of these counties to give us their generous assistance in a matter of great practical importance. Every one of our non Commissioned Officers needs a pair of Field Glasses, in order that he may be placed on even terms with the enemy he will presently have to face. I venture to think the people of Westmorland and Cumberland will help us to supply this need. As is generally known, there are 16 section commanders in each Company besides other N.C.O.'s, and four Platoon Sergeants. There are, of course, four Companies in every Service battalion. Officers provide their own glasses, but we should be very grateful for one hundred pairs, or even fifty pairs for our N.C.O.'s. Glasses are urgently required now, and later they will be indispensable. Glasses may be sent to this Camp ... Each pair received will be properly listed, with the name and address of the sender, and every effort will be made to return them in due course, where that is desired." [73]

Battalion Orders:

"The Brigadier-General promised to make an urgent representation on the subject of the necessity for the immediate issue of service rifles and ammunition. The Officer Commanding observed that all ranks did their best throughout, and takes this opportunity of expressing his satisfaction with the progress the Battalion has made." [136]

Instructions for route marching received from Capt. B[ernard] Montgomery. [183]

"I beg to report that two prisoners have broken out of cells ... Private J. Telford and Private T. Richardson both of B Company. These two men were placed in cells at 9.40 a.m. ... charged with being drunk. They were visited at 2.30 p.m. ... and were then taken to the latrines ... At 3.30 p.m. the prisoners shouted to the guard that they wanted to go to the latrines ... did not take the prisoners to the latrines because the Sergt. considered that they had no real need to go. They were at this time using foul and abusive language ... At 4.45 p.m. the Corporal of the Guard took tea to the cells, and found that the louvers in lower part of the door had been broken out and that both prisoners were gone ... The Sergeant of the Guard has been relieved of his duties and placed in open arrest ..." [105]

“ ... it should be understood that, as the new clothing of each soldier is mark [sic] and fitted, it will at once be taken into wear by him without further order for walking out. From tomorrow inclusive Khaki will be worn on guard. For the present the grey caps will continue to be worn with either the grey or the Khaki uniform.” [135]

10 Apr 1915

Machell to Lord Lonsdale: "... we did not leave on 7th – the move ... is in abeyance – I believe the reason is the filthy condition of the Camp at Grantham – our advanced party is busy cleaning our part & I hope we may be able to go soon. It is time we got into Brigade so as to go ahead with our training exactly on proper lines ..." [279]

Lieut. Harrison's lengthy report on and plan of Belton Park, Grantham. [116]

Letter to Machell from B.L. Montgomery: "" ... The move is hung up for the present; they are talking about reconstituting the 37th Division and until they have finished arguing about [that] we shall have to sit where we are. This is private. Meanwhile, the General does not want any time to be wasted, but training to go on as usual. I will wire you as soon as ever I know any definite re the move. If they do reconstitute the Division they may move battalions about into different brigades, but your battalion will remain anyhow, for which I am glad. ... I hope you are going on well." [116]

Letter to Machell from B.L. Montgomery: " ... you should always PUT "Bangor, N. Wales" on the envelope as there is another Bangor somewhere [Ireland]. As the move is put off for at least two weeks I hardly think it necessary to send a section from each company to Grantham. Your advance party will have plenty of time to get things straight, while we go on with the training. You can if you like bring back one of the two officers you sent down there. One officer at Grantham would be quite enough; however that is as you like." [116]

18 Apr 1915

General Sir Henry Mackinnon (Commander in Chief, Western Command) to Lord Lonsdale: “I am much distressed about the W[ar] O[ffice] plans for your Battalion. I did hear that the Battalion were going to be put in the Highland Division. That would not be so bad if it were the 1st Highland, which I understand is going abroad soon. If, however, it is the 2nd Highland, I should be sorry ... If you ever come across Lord K[itcheener], you might mention the Battalion to him, and you certainly have my authority to say how very highly I think of the material and training.” [279]

Telegram to Machell "Rail conveyance required about 9 a.m. Saturday 8th May from Carlisle to Whitchurch Salop for Prees Heath Camp for 11th Battalion Border Regt strength about 25 officers 900 other ranks 14 horses 5 four wheel vehicles 2 two wheeled vehicles 40 tons Baggage and stores please inform me ... if the heavy baggage can be offloaded from light railway which runs into the Camp. I hope to come along at 3.40 & march up to Camp with B & C. ... There is no hurry about tea. ... I have had a busy day but it is a pleasure to work with these people. ..." [57]

Letter from William Johnson, member of the Recruiting Staff: "The residents of Botchergate were very much disappointed ... when the advance party of your Battalion was taken by James Street to the Station. I have been asked by a deputation of wives & friends of the men to ask if you will be kind enough to march the men by way of Botchergate, when they leave the City. The Station Authorities will not allow either wife or other relative in the Station, & it will be the only chance of seeing their dear ones who are going to fight for us, on their march to the Station, by doing so you will be doing a graceful act, & will earn the thanks of the many friends who look upon the "Lonsdales" as their particular Battalion. ... wishing you good luck." [117]

Thur 6 May 1915

General Mackinnon, (Western Command) to Lord Lonsdale: "...I take the opportunity of expressing to you my very high appreciation of your patriotic action in raising the battalion, and of congratulating you on the success which has attended your efforts." [279]

Copy letter from Machell ""You will think me unreasonable about the rations for Saturday, but it is one of those things that is impossible – we draw on 1/9d per head here & have to live on it – it is not possible to calculate the value of the various 'ingredients' of the tea meal & pay for them – But it is quite easy as it is – we have breakfast here, dinner in the train, & take tea sugar milk, cheese etc, asking you to have the bread bought locally & all ready, because it is bulky – then on Sunday we get no 1/9 & simply draw the usual army ration and the 4d per man grocery ration. ... The Battn is being paid today ... There is the usual excitement, of course, & they tell me we shall have a job to get down Botchergate on Saturday morning – No detail yet about hour of departure but it will be 2 trains – The 1st probably taking heavy baggage & 1 Company, The other kitbags etc & 2 Companies. I wish Lord Lonsdale could have seen D Company too. I am so glad all are doing so well. ... I think all is straight here – It is lucky I don't want to go away myself! Clart has been North & gathers that our Scotch friends are not wonderful. I wish they were – it would lift us along to get with good people." [57]

Col. Machell: "The Battalion will parade for inspection by the Earl of Lonsdale ... Dress khaki, Marching Order – the Battalion will be formed in Mass and, after being inspected, will rank past in forms from the right hand and dismiss by Companies." [278]

Copy letter from Machell: "... arrival. A & detachment D with all baggage & transport horses, 2.20 p.m. ... Baggage to go up to Camp by Contractor's line – B & C & Horses 3.40 p.m. - Nothing in this train but men and officers' horses. ... All well here ... Lord Lonsdale has been and inspected us today & made a good speech which I hope will be published – There were some reports present. All cut and dried now for tomorrow & I expect a big crush in the town this time. ..." [42]

Letter to Machell from GDS, High Wray Bank, Ambleside: "Welcome to your new camp. I hope you will find it really comfortable.... We were very glad we came [to Carlisle] ... and were in time to say goodbye to the first lot ... I was very sorry you had such a mob at the end as I should like to have seen you march on but it was a wonderful sight the thin stream of khaki filtering through the two gates [The Courts] and then a sudden admixture of black coats and then the great rush coming through like a dam bursting. Well, it shows what a hold you had got on Carlisle and must surely make every man there wish he had been in your lines to have got such a send off. You deserve it too you have nursed those men and trained them and they must have often been a sore trial on your (hereditary) temper but it has been worth it all and now you can feel you have given the Empire a real tool shaped properly ... out of what was at the beginning most unpromising material ..."
